

Dear NAME,

We all know how boring tax law can be. But what if knowing how beneficial that tax law is makes you want to read it?

Don't worry. You won't have to read hundreds of pages of boring tax code. A copy of our New Opportunities for American Investors report is available for you, free of charge. Since this information is vital to your future, you must call us at 1-800-FIDELITY so that we can send it to you right away.

Remember: The information contained in this report is crucial to your future savings.

This report gives you tax-saving measures from the Pension Protection Act of 2006. Again, you won't have to read the whole act because our report summarizes all of the key information for you in an easy to understand format that's written for people like you and me.

In it, you'll find:

- Action plans that help you take advantage of new tax law benefits
- Detailed timeline showing what key changes are taking place and when
- How to take advantage of changes being made to workplace accounts, such as your 401k
- Charts and graphs that explain how important it is to save now rather than later
- A guide to finding even more detailed information on our website, showing calculators and planning tools

This valuable report is yours at absolutely no cost, with absolutely no obligation.

You can benefit from all of the tax-saving benefits completely without obligation to do or pay anything. We are sending the New Opportunities for American Investors report to you strictly as an introduction to the quality of information and service we provide to our clients on a regular basis.

We will hold your complimentary report until 10/31/12. We must receive your response by then.

Please contact us today at 1-800-FIDELITY to take advantage of this special offer. This is a unique opportunity to take advantage and avail yourself of our retirement and investment services...at absolutely no cost to you.

To your financial success,
